EVENT ACTIVITY or TOUR SANCTION

ABOUT EVENT, ACTIVITY AND TOUR SANCTIONING

Sanctioning of a baseball event, activity and / or tour is a requirement of the International Baseball Federation and as a member of the International Baseball Federation, the Australian Baseball Federation is obliged to uphold this protocol and provide and administer similar procedures for the sport of baseball within Australia.

Event, activity and tour sanction provides:

- regulation and protection of members and baseball as a sport;
- insurance protection (as outlined in the ABF'S National Insurance Scheme available on our website www.baseball.com.au);
- recognition and authorisation of baseball events, activities and touring parties;
- a cohesive approach to coordinating baseball around Australia; and
- a platform for cooperative interaction between international entities.

WHAT NEEDS TO BE SANCTIONED?

State associations, clubs or affiliated organisations wishing to develop and implement any baseball tournament or training / competition program that requires either interstate or international negotiation and travel, must receive written event / activity sanction from the ABF prior to any baseball activity occurring.

This is not to discourage state associations, clubs or affiliated organisations from developing concepts or creative program planning. However, it must be clearly understood that for interstate and international activities, programs or events to receive the sanction of the ABF they must meet certain criteria, including that:

- they do not conflict with existing scheduled activities, programs or events;
- they compliment or can be incorporated into the ABF's national strategic planning framework;
- they receive the sanction of the appropriate national and international bodies;
- they do not conflict with existing activities, programs or events "licensed" by the ABF; and
- they demonstrate a feasible and practical method of program implementation.

Other criteria may need to be satisfied from time to time depending upon the nature of the activity.

State associations, clubs, affiliated organisations, or corporate entities may be appointed to conduct or host licensed activities, events or programs on behalf of the ABF.

An event or activity, for the purpose of sanctioning, includes but is not limited to; any game or series of games involving a team or teams travelling over interstate or international borders, matches, practice sessions, training camps, promotional activity and any other baseball related appearances and activities.

A tour consists of any baseball athlete, team, coaching and / or support staff travelling:

- over Australian state or territory borders;
- to another country from Australia; and
- to Australia from another country;

to participate in baseball events or activities.

( except where the tour group originates from a region administered by another geographical state and the tour is to their administration catchment, ie, Lismore (NSW) administered by Baseball Queensland touring to Queensland.)

WHY SANCTION EVENTS, ACTIVITIES AND TOURS?

1. Insurance

If a team or athlete participates in an unsanctioned event or activity held in Australia, then insurance cover may not be provided under the ABF's National Insurance Scheme. This potentially exposes the team or athlete and the event or activity organisers to claims. The same may apply for a team or athlete travelling without official tour sanction.

2. International accord

Sanctioning indicates that the event, activity or tour is recognised by the sanctioning organisation and has their authorisation to play against other affiliated members. In general, this would be against other members of the International Baseball Federation. Involvement with organisations that are not affiliated with the International Baseball Federation that are deemed detrimental to the pursuits of members of the International Baseball Federation may lead to suspension of players and / or associations.

3. Protection of member programs

The sanction process ensures that events and activities are held with due respect for local, state, national and international objectives for the sport. This includes adherence to member benefit programs (ie, the National Licensing and Merchandising Program [Agreement available from our website www.baseball.com.au/admin]) and recognition of participation guidelines (ie, prohibiting participation of players, coaches and support staff that are undergoing bans in a local, state or national framework).

4. Standards

Officiating standards are upheld through sanctioning whereby only nationally accredited umpires may be used at Australian-based events and activities.

5. Detrimental activities

To protect the integrity of Australian baseball both here and abroad, groups undertaking activities judged to be detrimental to the interests of Australian baseball will not be given sanction through this process.

6. Communication

The ABF, as the peak body for the sport in Australia, should be kept informed of all activities pertaining to its members both here and abroad. This assists the ABF in its day to day management of the sport as well as its role in international relations.

Likewise, state and territory association offices, as the governing body for the sport within their geographical region, should be kept informed of all activities pertaining to their members both within their region and abroad.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

International relations are of vital importance to the ABF. For that reason all communications between Australian baseball organisations and any international baseball organisation concerning matters relating to baseball activity must be directed through the ABF.

This is simply achieved by forwarding a completed "Notice of Intent to Negotiate" form [Appendix 2] to the ABF.

This protocol is a specific charter of the ABF as a member of the International Baseball Federation and will assist in maintaining "world order" in regards to international baseball. It will also assist the ABF in understanding the nature and positioning of the baseball related activity you are undertaking with international entities. The ABF will formally respond to the Notice of Intent to Negotiate.

WHAT IS THE COST?

There is one cost across all sanctions – AU$50.00:

AU$50.00 (AUD) per application for tour sanction;

AU$50.00 (AUD) per application for event / activity sanction;

The AU$50.00 application fee includes GST and is non-refundable. This fee covers the administration of processing applications and is invested back into the sport of baseball.

AU$0.00 (nil) per Notice of Intent to Negotiate.

IMPORTANT!

1. No activity, event or tour can proceed without sanction provided by the ABF.
2. Sanctioning should be included in the priority task list of any event, activity or tour organising committee and should be sought well in advance of the commencement date, bearing in mind the following may cause delays in processing an application:
 - The absence of any information requested within these procedures and on the application form.
 - Information that is insufficient, incorrect or unclear.
 - The absence of an international certificate of sanction (where required).
 - The absence of state or territory association office approval.
 - Inquiries required to be made in relation to any of the above.
3. Whilst providing sanction for tours, events and activities, the ABF does not acknowledge, approve or otherwise endorse the tour operators and / or those organisations arranging events, games and activities in Australia or abroad. The responsibility to establish the bona fides of the organiser(s) rests with the participants. The ABF, in granting sanction, does not provide any guarantee in relation to the performance of the tour operator or game, event or activity organiser and does not accept any liability in this regard.
4. Australian athletes or teams participating in events or activities here or overseas are to ensure that only licensed merchandise and equipment (ie, apparel, balls, caps), appropriately badged with the ABF's logo is worn / used. Refer to the ABF's National Licensing and Merchandising Program Agreement available on the ABF's website www.baseball.com.au/admin. A Compliance Statement [Appendix 5] is to be completed and forwarded with any application for tour, event or activity sanction.
5. Only nationally accredited umpires are to be used at events and activities held in Australia. Contact details for State Umpire Executives are provided at Appendix 8.
6. The use of the term "Australia", "Australian" or "ABF" in any form to represent a team either sanctioned or unsanctioned by the ABF, other than an Australian national team as selected by the ABF, is strictly prohibited.
7. All events or activities sanctioned by the ABF will be added to our website's calendar of events and monthly E-News. If you wish your event to be further promoted on either of these mediums, please contact the ABF's Administration Manager on 07-5509 4144 or ausbaseball@baseball.org.au.

All tours will be listed in the ABF's E-News only.

The National Licensing and Merchandising Program assists all participants by financially contributing to the development of baseball in Australia. To help with the success of this initiative, all players and associated on-field staff are required to wear only licensed apparel (ie, caps, tops, pants, jackets) bearing the appropriate Australian Baseball badging and using licensed equipment in competitions, events and other sanctioned activities whether in Australia or abroad. This has been a requirement since 1 April 2001.

This compliance relates to all levels of baseball with the exclusion of T-Ball and Coach Pitch.

In order to receive sanction of your event, activity or tour, this Compliance Statement must be signed acknowledging adherence to the Program. Failure to comply will result in sanction not being granted and appropriate penalties being imposed.

I certify on behalf of the following touring party / activity / event that full compliance to the ABF's National Merchandising Agreement (as is current on the ABF's website) will be administered and that failure to comply will result in our tour/ event / activity being unsuccessful in its application for sanction and that appropriate penalties will be imposed by the ABF.

SECTION 2

MASTERS EVENTS PARTICIPATION SANCTION

MASTERS EVENTS PARTICIPANTS BECOME MEMBERS OF THE ABF

From 1 September 2004, all Masters events participants will be given member status of the Australian Baseball Federation.

The reasons for this are quite simple. The ABF already assists Masters events organisers through provision of a range of services which are pretty much the same as for any Baseball 'member', ie, an existing member club or association that's holding an event. We're also regularly called upon to provide event sanctioning, as more and more of the Games organisers at the top of the umbrella are requesting that each sport seeks and gains the sanction of their sport's peak body.

Historically the ABF has supported the Masters movement through provision of a range of services for their events and specifically, the event organisers. Up to this point, this has been extended as a goodwill gesture based on the comparatively small workload it encompassed. Interest in Masters games has increased markedly and the ABF has found the workload involved in servicing this demand has also increased.

In order to adequately service this sector and in the interests of all within the Baseball community, Masters event participants will now be attributed member status of the ABF through implementation of a small team fee at the point of event registration.

This will formalise the relationship so that we can continue to provide services to the Masters fraternity and also importantly, provide a vehicle through which Masters can contribute to the greater Baseball community. The fee will be $20 per team per event. This new membership class will also allow us to more accurately report on actual Baseball participation to government and other funding sources.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

In an attempt to make our rationale as transparent as possible, we've put together the following Q & A's.

Why should a fee be charged?

Masters events participants currently pay no fees toward Australian Baseball yet receive services similar to that of other fee-paying members. A nominal fee level has been implemented so that Masters are levied proportionally compared with other members.

How is it to be paid?

The Baseball event organiser applies for event sanction from the ABF and pays the per team registration fee according to how many teams will be playing. These costs will be recouped by the organiser either as an identified part of team participation costs or just rolled into the normal team fees. In other words, teams just pay costs associated with the event to the games organisers and they will do the rest.

Will I be a member of the ABF by paying this fee?

Yes. The ABF has created a new class of membership in its Constitution specifically for Masters events participants. Rights of membership are very much the same as for any individual member of the Baseball community with the exception of insurance. In our experience, this is always provided by the Masters games organisers.

What if I'm already a member of Australian Baseball through a club or league?

The fee still applies and this new membership relates specifically to Masters events. The figure has been kept very low so that it is not an unreasonable burden on those who are also regular club members. Research on the make up of Masters in our sport has shown that the vast majority participate in the event environment rather than regular league play. There will always be a number who exist in both but this is considered to be in the minority.

What obligations are there as a member of the ABF?

The ABF administers a number of member benefit initiatives on behalf of its members. Amongst them is the Licensing and Merchandising program which returns much needed funds to the grass roots through a licensed supplier framework.

Adherence to the ABF's Licensing and Merchandising program is one aspect of the prerequisites for event sanctioning. As such, all participating Masters events teams will be required to comply. The Australian Baseball community made a commitment to the Licensing and Merchandising program some years ago. It has been adopted nationally and exists as a means to bring benefits to all members. Compliance to this program will establish the Masters fraternity as being similarly committed to the betterment of Baseball in Australia and importantly, align them with all other members of the Baseball community.

Essentially the program promotes that game apparel (playing tops, pants, hats and warm up jackets / slickers) and game baseballs can only be purchased through a network of licensed suppliers. The strength of this collective purchasing is that those manufacturers and suppliers contribute back to Baseball through the payment of royalties. This program has already started to return dividends to the sport through cash payments to state associations.

In view of the more relaxed environment in Masters games in regards to uniforms, an exception has been made in regards to playing tops; only pants, hats and warm up jackets / slickers need to be licensed.

What about the use of current uniforms?

Like all other members, Masters events participants will be given interim badging to apply to their existing uniforms if they have not been sourced from one of the ABF's licensed suppliers. The program only requires that new uniforms be purchased from licensed suppliers in the future. Your contact on the event organising committee will have more information in regards to compliance.

In essence, the financial impact of this fee on Masters events participants is about $1.60 per participant per event. This small contribution will facilitate membership of the greater Baseball community and therefore contribute toward the betterment of Baseball in Australia.

If you'd like more information or want to discuss any aspect of your membership, please call Peter Wood, ABF National Development Manager on (07) 5509 4116.

Thanks for your time, your understanding and your contribution to our sport.

The National Licensing and Merchandising Program assists all participants by financially contributing to the development of baseball in Australia. The Program promotes that all game apparel (ie, shirts, pants, hats and warm up jackets / slickers) and game baseballs can only be purchased through a network of licensed suppliers.

In view of the more relaxed environment in Masters games in regards to uniforms, an exception has been made in regards to playing tops (ie, only pants, hats and warm up jackets / slickers need to be licensed bearing the appropriate Australian Baseball badging).

The National Licensing and Merchandising Program has been in operation since 1 April 2001.

In order to receive Masters Events Participation Sanction this Compliance Statement must be signed acknowledging adherence to the Program. Failure to comply will result in sanction not being granted and appropriate penalties being imposed.

I certify on behalf of the following Masters Baseball Event that full compliance to the ABF's National Merchandising Agreement (as is current on the ABF's website) will be administered and that failure to comply will result in the Masters Baseball Event being unsuccessful in its application for sanction and that appropriate penalties will be imposed by the ABF.

SECTION 3

PLAYER CLEARANCE

NATIONAL PLAYER CLEARANCE

If a player wishes to play baseball in another league or competition or register with another club or association, the player is first required to obtain approval from his / her current club or association.

Clearance signed off by the current club or association confirms that the player has no obligations outstanding with that club or association. Clearance will not be approved until such time as any obligations outstanding with the player's current club are met or arrangements made.

The Australian Baseball Federation is not required to approve or sign off on this type of clearance of an athlete.

The following form (Appendix 13) was established by the Australian Baseball Federation to assist members in the clearance process. This form is required to be completed by the athlete or current club then signed by all parties involved in the transfer process.

INTERNATIONAL PLAYER CLEARANCE

If a player wishes to play baseball in another league or competition or register with another club or association overseas, the player is first required to obtain approval from his or her club or association.

Clearance signed off by the current club or association confirms that the player has no obligations outstanding with that club or association. Clearance will not be approved until such time as any obligations outstanding with the player's current club are met or arrangements made.

The Australian Baseball Federation is required to provide sanction and sign off on any international clearance of an athlete.

The following letter (Appendix 14) is to be transposed on to the player's current club's letterhead, fully completed and signed by an executive of that club then faxed or posted back to the ABF. The ABF will then draw up a formal letter of clearance addressed to the relevant country's national federation. If not too late, the letter will be issued to the player to take with them.

A description of the details required for each field of the letter is provided at the end of Appendix 14.

SECTION 4

SPONSORSHIP OF INTERNATIONAL ATHLETE TO AUSTRALIA (Sports Sponsored Visa)

From time to time, state associations, clubs or other affiliated organisations may require expert playing, coaching or instructional personnel from another country. If these people are required for an extended stay in Australia and will be working for fees or wages, they will require a "sponsor" (the organisation seeking their services) in support of an application for the appropriate Australian visa.

Sporting Visas are used by the Department of Immigration and Multicultural Affairs to allow a sports person to enter into Australia to play, coach sport, etc. Generally, this person will bring in a skill unable to be obtained in Australia or a skill which will improve the sport. The Sporting Visa will allow that person to work and earn money while they are in Australia.

On application for a sporting visa from baseball, the Department of Immigration and Multicultural Affairs will require a letter of endorsement from the Australian Baseball Federation in support of a sponsor's / applicant's application. This letter will serve as sanction for the entry of the applicant to participate in Australian baseball activity. Without it, the applicant cannot participate in Australian baseball activity and is very unlikely to receive entry to Australia.

WHAT'S REQUIRED?

1. Agree to sponsor the applicant and draw up a contract of duties, responsibilities, fees / wages and other relevant information signed and dated by both parties.
2. Assist in the lodgement of an application form to the Department of Immigration and Multicultural Affairs.
3. Visit the Department of Immigration and Multicultural Affairs website (www.immi.gov.au) or contact them by phone to find out what is required. Usually, you would obtain document "Form 147 – Application for a temporary residence visa (non-business)" (www.immi.gov.au/allforms/pdf/147.pdf). The visa the applicant will be applying for would be Class: Cultural / Social (Temporary), Sub Class: 421 Sport. The purpose of this visa would be for "temporary stay of amateur or professional sports people to engage in competition with Australian residents and to improve general sporting standards in Australia through high calibre competition and training". Check that this is still the case today.
5. Once you have the forms, pass them onto the applicant for completion. The applicant must read the whole document fully, ensuring they clearly understand what is required. This form must be completed in all honesty and must be accompanied by all necessary additional information / documentation requested throughout the form, back to the sponsor.

NOTE: The application can be lodged personally by the applicant, by a representative (sponsor), or sent by mail. (This document is written in the context that the sponsor will assist with most of the preparation of this application.)

6. In support of this visa application:
 - the applicant is aware that he / she is unable to change employer without prior permission;
 - inquiries about health checking procedures and forms requirements are made at the office where it is intended to lodge the application;
 - documented proof is available of sufficient health insurance to cover the applicant's intended duration of the visa;
 - the organisation's (sponsor) balance sheet and or bank statements are available;
 - the sponsor acquires a letter of support from their state association office;
 - the sponsor acquires a letter of endorsement from the ABF (which acts as ABF sanction).

The ABF will issue a letter of endorsement to the sponsor upon receipt of the letter of support from the State Association and a copy of the contract drawn up between the sponsor and the applicant.

The letter of support from the State Association will verify that there is no reason why the applicant should be denied an endorsement from the ABF. The State Association is responsible for ensuring that all the necessary checks have been carried out on the applicant and are satisfied that there are no legalities which would impede entry into Australia.

It is important that the sponsor check with the Department of Immigration and Multicultural Affairs to make sure that there are no changes to what is required.
